Crackin'

The Wests and Shipmans bid farewell in a heartfelt festive finale

NEW COMEDY

Gavin & Stacey: The Finale

Christmas Day, 9pm, BBC1

Ready for one last road trip...

It's the end of an era… After 17 years, much-loved comedy Gavin & Stacey wraps up for good with an emotional feature-length finale on BBC1 on Christmas Day.

Five years after her cliffhanger proposal to Smithy at the end of the 2019 Christmas special, it seems Nessa's now moved up in the world from Nessa's Slots with a new business venture, while Neil the Baby is all grown up and about to begin an apprenticeship with his dad. But did Smithy say yes?

'The proposal will always be one of my favourite Nessa moments. It's one of the very few times we've seen her vulnerable,' says Ruth Jones, 58, who plays Nessa and co-wrote the hit series with James Corden, who appears as Smithy.

'My earliest Gavin & Stacey memory was Nessa handing Smithy a slice of pizza in London's Leicester Square and them taking an instant dislike to each other. So who would have thought that these two characters would go on the journey they've been on?'

STRESSED HOSTESS

In Essex, we catch up with Mick (Larry Lamb), who has recently retired and is now a fanatical amateur golfer, and wife Pam (Alison Steadman), who's in a panic about having to host Christmas for all the crew from Wales.

But as Bryn (Rob Brydon) packs up his beloved mint-coloured Picasso to journey from Barry to Billericay, will we find out what really happened between him and his nephew Jason on that now-infamous fishing trip?

As the festivities approach, Stacey (Joanna Page) and Gavin (Mathew Horne) are trying to find more ways to spice up their marriage, while widowed mum Gwen (Melanie Walters) begins to behave increasingly oddly.

Alison Steadman as Pam

'It was really exciting when I received the script. I was driving home from another job and I had to pull into a service station to read it,' says Page, 47. 'I kept sending Ruth voice notes while I was reading it, saying, "I can't believe this!"'

'I also had a compulsion to read the script immediately,' adds Horne, 46. 'It made me laugh, it made me cry and it's nothing short of a masterpiece. It also contains one of my favourite moments of the whole series – which, I'm afraid, I can't reveal!'

Corden, 46, says that filming the finale was an emotional experience.

THAT'S A WRAP!

'The very last thing we shot is the very last moment of the show, so there were a lot of tears,' he says. 'It's been such a huge part of my life. To have an idea with a friend in a hotel in Leeds 20 years ago and then be sat here today with what it's become, I'm so proud of what we've done.

'Fundamentally, the show is about family, friendship and love. There's so much warmth and love within these characters as a group, and none of that is faked – it's also there in our relationships as a cast. I hope viewers feel that on Christmas Day.'

To mark the final episode, BBC1 documentary Gavin & Stacey: A Fond Farewell (New Year's Day, 7pm) tells the behind-the-scenes story of the sitcom, with contributions from creators James Corden and Ruth Jones and the cast as they film the finale.

The leads in the first series

NEW CRIME DRAMA

Vera

New Year's Day & Thursday 2 January, 8pm, ITV1

Thirteen years after we first met ITV1's formidable DCI Vera Stanhope, Brenda Blethyn's Geordie detective returns to our screens over the new year to solve her very last cases.

In the opening story, Vera has two investigations on her hands, as she tackles a cold-case killer and the discovery of a body washed up on the banks of the Tyne. Meanwhile, in the crime drama's last-ever episode, Vera uncovers a web of intrigue during the search for a missing girl – while she also has a life-changing decision to make.

TV&Satellite Week met up with Blethyn, 78, to hear about her emotional goodbye...

Why is this the right time to leave? It was such a hard decision, and come next March, when we'd normally start filming Vera, I'll probably be crying. But I've been working away from my family for six months of the year for the past 14 years and I haven't had a summer break, so I'm looking forward to that.

Why do you think the show has been so popular? The action concentrates on the plot and not on personalities within the police team. Vera looks dead ordinary and there's nothing gruesome about the show. Also, it's filmed in all these beautiful places in Northumberland, and that's been a real eye-opener for a lot of viewers.

Brenda Blethyn and co-star David Leon

How did you feel when you filmed the final scene? Our producer arranged for the last scene to be in the incident room with all the cast and crew there. As soon as it was a wrap, there were champagne corks popping. It was like a big collective hug. We were all choked up.

Have you kept any souvenirs from the show? I've kept Vera's mac and her tweed coat – although it looks like it's been through the mill! I've also kept the hat, of course. I found that hat myself in a fishing shop and knew straight away that it would be perfect for Vera.

Brenda Blethyn and crime writer Ann Cleeves reflect on the series' success and legacy in behind-the-scenes documentary Vera, Farewell Pet (Friday 3 January, 9pm, ITV1)

Who's that girl?

Nicola Coughlan teams up with the Doctor to battle an old enemy and a deadly dinosaur

NEW SCI-FI

Doctor Who

Christmas Day, 5.10pm, BBC1

Bridgerton*'s Nicola Coughlan encounters treachery, time travel and a terrifying T-rex in Doctor Who's thrilling festive special, Joy to the World, written by Steven Moffat.

The Derry Girls star plays Joy, who checks into a London hotel for what she imagines will be a quiet Christmas. But it turns out to be just the opposite when she discovers a secret doorway to a 'Time Hotel' and she comes face to face with the Doctor (Ncuti Gatwa).

'Joy is someone who comes across as very shy and retiring when you first meet her. She's somebody who never wants to cause a fuss,' says Coughlan, 37. 'Then you realise that she's hiding a lot of pain and has a lot of struggle in her life, but isn't really facing it. However, the Doctor doesn't let her rest on her laurels.'

Jonathan Aris plays a Silurian hotel manager

The Doctor has been travelling on his own in the TARDIS, ever since his companion Ruby Sunday (played by Millie Gibson) elected to spend some time getting to know her birth parents, who she met during the most-recent run of the series.

'We find the Doctor alone at the start of this episode,' says Gatwa, 32. 'He's obviously still dealing with losing Ruby, who's back at home with her family, and he's trying to fill that void with an adventure.'

As the Doctor and Joy embark on a dangerous escapade that involves a Silurian, a T-rex, and his old enemies Villengard, the biggest arms manufacturer in history, can the daring duo thwart a deadly plan threatening all of human history and save Christmas everywhere?

'Fighting a T-rex and working with Nicola was great fun,' says Gatwa. 'It feels very nice to be back with a Christmas special, and it's got such a joyous, lovely, warm, Christmassy feel. There's so much heart in this story, which touches on loss, love and humour.'

For Coughlan, the daring adventure also gave her the chance to stretch herself as an actor.

'The episode is quite action-heavy and I was super-excited to do the stunts,' she smiles. 'It's so different to anything I've ever done before.'

Éanna Hardwicke and Phoebe Horn play young couple Jack and Laura

Tomb of terror

Marble knights come to life in a spine-chilling ghost story

NEW HORROR

Woman of Stone

Christmas Eve, 10.15pm, BBC2

Author E. Nesbit is best known for her beloved children's books, most notably The Railway Children, but the prolific writer also penned ghost stories and Sherlock's Mark Gatiss has adapted one of these chilling tales for this year's instalment of A Ghost Story for Christmas.

Set in the 1880s, Woman of Stone centres on troubled newly-weds Jack (The Sixth Commandment's Éanna Hardwicke) and Laura (Phoebe Horn), who have moved to a cottage in the country for a fresh start.

Celia Imrie as author Edith Nesbit

Ncuti Gatwa and Nicola Coughlan as the Doctor and Joy

1969's The War Games, now shown in colour

Doctor Who at the Proms

There's another Christmas treat for Doctor Who fans with the release of a newly colourised version of classic 1969 story The War Games (Monday 23 December, 9pm, BBC4), which features the never-before-seen regeneration of the Second Doctor (Patrick Troughton) into the Third Doctor, played by Jon Pertwee.

You can also hear music and see stars from the show in Doctor Who at the Proms (Christmas Eve, 4.10pm, BBC2). Hosted by Catherine Tate from the Royal Albert Hall in London, it features Cybermen, Daleks and a host of other monsters.

The Doctor and Joy encounter a T-rex

But Laura's peace of mind is shattered after their housekeeper Mrs Dorman (Sherwood's Monica Dolan) tells them of a disturbing local legend. On Christmas Eve, a pair of marble knights rise from their tombs in the village church and come back to their old home – the couple's cottage – seeking deadly retribution.

'I love Christmas ghost stories,' says Hardwicke, 28, who has also appeared in A Very Royal Scandal. 'At this time of year, we're closer to the mystic or the supernatural.'

Writer and director Gatiss has placed E. Nesbit at the heart of the 30-minute drama, as the widowed author (Celia Imrie) recounts the scary story to her doctor (Mawaan Rizwan) in her final days, while also revealing to him how her late husband deceived her.

Mrs Dorman (Monica Dolan)

'Having Celia Imrie's character talk about her husband blurs the line between Nesbit's life and her storytelling,' explains Hardwicke, who will next be seen playing former footballer Roy Keane in the film Saipan.

'This is what Mark Gatiss does so well. He plays with people's expectations of what a festive ghost story will be. There's a really compelling atmosphere, but there are also darker layers to it.'

Journey for JUSTICE

Colin Firth stars in a moving drama about the Lockerbie bombing

NEW DRAMA

Lockerbie: A Search for Truth

Thursday 2 Jan, 9pm, Sky Atlantic (box set, Sky Box Sets/NOW)

On 21 December 1988, a bomb exploded aboard Pan Am Flight 103 as the plane was heading from Heathrow to New York, sending it crashing into the small Scottish town of Lockerbie.

The terrorist attack – the worst in British history – claimed the lives of 270 people, including medical student Flora Swire, who was travelling on the eve of her 24th birthday to spend Christmas with her boyfriend.

The tragedy is now the subject of a moving five-part drama on Sky Atlantic, which follows Flora's heartbroken father, Dr Jim Swire, played by Colin Firth, in his decades-long quest to uncover the truth about her death.

'It's the most-remarkable story,' says Firth, 64. 'Jim's motivation was to find out the truth and also to gain understanding. He wanted to make sense of something that is inherently unfathomable.'

SHOCKING TRAGEDY

The opening episode begins with Jim and wife Jane (Catherine McCormack) waving goodbye to Flora, only for their world to fall apart when they hear the terrible news. Meanwhile, local journalist Murray Guthrie (Sam Troughton) races to the crash site.

'When we meet Murray, he's walking through Lockerbie and there are burning buildings everywhere – it's like a level of hell,' says Troughton, 47, whose character is a blend of several real-life journalists.

Jim and Murray strike up a friendship in an investigation that takes Jim to Libya, where he meets Colonel Gaddafi, considered to be the mastermind behind the plot.

'When Jim met Gaddafi, he fully expected to be taken prisoner or even shot,' says Firth. 'He was going into the belly of the beast on an unofficial mission with no support.'

But although suspects are later identified, are they the real culprits?

'Jim set out in good faith looking for answers, but he realised they weren't as forthcoming as he expected,' says Firth, who met with the real Jim Swire, now in his 80s, to prepare for the role.

'The story is full of twists and turns. I was just overwhelmed by the relentless sadness of Jim's journey.'

The nuns and midwives face a hectic yuletide in an emotional two-parter

NEW DRAMA

Call the Midwife

Christmas Day, 8pm, & Boxing Day, 7.30pm, BBC1

Our Poplar favourites are rushed off their feet in this year's Call the Midwife Christmas special, which, for the first time, is a festive two-parter.

Set in December 1969, the heart-warming episodes of the BBC1 period drama find the nuns and midwives tackling some challenging births, the fallout from Hong Kong flu, and a homeless family that needs help.

Cliff Parisi as Fred

'There's a sad story about an elderly woman who suffers because of this dangerous flu, and it's soul-destroying seeing the family evicted,' reveals Jenny Agutter, who plays head nun Sister Julienne.

'There are so many different stories interweaving in this two-parter. It feels very Dickensian.'

Meanwhile, problems arise for newsagent Fred (Cliff Parisi) and wife Violet (Annabelle Apsion), who are awaiting the Christmas return of their ward Reggie (Daniel Laurie) from his residential community. And the locals are also increasingly anxious as a group of convicts are on the loose after escaping from prison.

'It's on the news, and everyone is nervous about it,' says Natalie Quarry, who joined the cast as young nurse Rosalind this year. 'My character has an interaction that is tense and scary.'

However, there is some festive cheer when Fred dresses up as Santa again to visit children in

The Split: Barcelona

Sun 29 Dec & Mon 30 Dec, 9pm, BBC1 (box set, BBC iPlayer)

More than two years on from what was set to be The Split's third and final series, Nicola Walker's formidable divorce lawyer Hannah Defoe and her family are back – this time heading to Spain for a sun-soaked wedding special of the legal drama.

The two-parter sees Hannah, her sisters, their mother Ruth and Hannah's ex-husband Nathan (Stephen Mangan) descend on a magnificent vineyard in Catalonia, as Hannah and Nathan's eldest daughter Liv prepares to wed her Spanish beau, Gael.

Good cheer at the carol concert

There's drama and joy this Christmas in Poplar hospital, while there's also a mince-pie contest, a carol concert, and a funfair comes to town.

'We filmed at a real vintage fair, which was beautiful with all the lights,' says Quarry. 'I wasn't supposed to go on any of the rides, but I secretly went on the carousel!'

Elsewhere, love blossoms for nurse and single mum Nancy (Megan Cusack) when she meets kindly pharmaceutical salesman Roger (Conor O'Donnell), and Nonnatus House stalwart Trixie (Helen George) pops over from America, where she is living with husband Matthew.

'Trixie's started a life in New York but she's back with her family in Poplar for Christmas,' shares original cast member George. 'It was a treat filming the carol concert with The Salvation Army's band, and we have snow, so it's quite something for Trixie to come home to. It's all about community and the Christmas spirit.'

At the same time, Hannah and Nathan are navigating whether there's such a thing as a 'good divorce'.

'While Hannah and Nathan's marriage is over, it's not the end,' explains Walker, 54. 'Their relationship is different now. They still love each other, but they're just not in love. In fact, they find each other intensely irritating!'

As Hannah wonders if she might ever find love again, can family lawyer Archie Moore encourage her to take a leap of faith?

'We meet Archie on a date with Hannah, who gets cold feet and walks out, leaving Archie perplexed about what went wrong,' reveals Black Sails' Toby Stephens, 55, who plays him. 'Then Archie turns up at Liv's wedding and clearly holds a candle for Hannah.'

Gael and Liv prepare to wed

Meanwhile, Hannah's sisters, Nina and Rose, are having troubles of their own.

'The scenes with the sisters are really funny. TV's idea of strong females can be unrealistic. Women are often angry, weepy, shouty – and tipsy, as we see on Liv's hen do!' laughs Walker, who relished shooting on location in Spain.

'It was lovely filming in the vineyard and on the beach, and being out of the office environment.'

The SAS heads to Italy in its war against the Nazis

NEW DRAMA

SAS Rogue Heroes

New Year's Day & Thu 2 Jan, 9pm, BBC1 (box set, BBC iPlayer)

The very future of the SAS hangs in the balance as the courageous commando unit joins the fight to retake mainland Europe in the second season of this action-packed World War Two drama.

Written by Peaky Blinders creator Steven Knight, the six-parter opens in the spring of 1943 as the recently formed regiment leaves the deserts of Africa to spearhead an assault on Sicily.

With Lt Col David Stirling (Connor Swindells) taken prisoner, the SAS is now led by the unpredictable Major Paddy Mayne (Jack O'Connell).

'The war has moved from the desert, where renegade behaviour was OK, to a place full of civilians where a more conventional type of warfare is required,' says Knight, 65. 'Yet the unit is now being led by Paddy Mayne, a man who thrived on the anarchy of the desert.'

With questions over the SAS' future, Stirling persuades the British high command to send his brother, Lt Col Bill Stirling (Gwilym Lee), to oversee operations.

The creation of a second unit, 2 SAS, plus a batch of untrained recruits, only makes life more difficult for Paddy.

'He butts up against the top brass quite a lot,' says O'Connell, 34. 'Paddy's definitely got his way of winning the war, but his vision isn't shared by the higher-ups.'

Meanwhile, French spy Eve Mansour (Sofia Boutella) is hoping to get closer to the action, although her British counterpart, Col Dudley Clarke (Dominic West), warns her the SAS will be involved in the most-vicious fighting of the war so far.

'There's so much good and bad in World War Two,' says Knight. 'You get good men doing very bad things for good reasons – which hopefully makes for great drama.'

Saint Marie gets a new cop as a killer targets Father Christmases...

Sun, sea & Santa

NEW CRIME DRAMA

Death in Paradise

Sun 22 December, 8.30pm, BBC1

As Christmas Day approaches, London detective Mervin Wilson is looking forward to heading home after a holiday in Saint Marie. So he's none too pleased when his boss orders him to stay on to help the local force crack a murder case on the Caribbean island.

Karaoke-singing tourist Stuart Fullwell (Marcus Brigstocke) has been found dead while dressed as Santa, and Commissioner Selwyn Patterson (Don Warrington) realises that his team are going to need some extra assistance to find the killer. But Mervin (Don Gilet) isn't planning to remain on the island for a second longer than he absolutely has to…

'He very much wants to do things his own way, and he's more suited to a London pace of life,' says former EastEnders star Gilet, 57. 'As far as he's concerned, everything in Saint Marie runs counter to how things are supposed to be done.'

HO, HO, HOMICIDE

Mervin is thrown in at the deep end when two more men in Father Christmas outfits, including celebrity songwriter Tony Hurst (Brassic's Steven Hartley), become targets, and his investigation leads him to question hotel guests Tabitha (Waterloo Road's Angela Griffin) and Karla (Hotel Portofino's Elizabeth Carling).

Meanwhile, Mervin's new colleagues do their best to

'Their initial reaction to him is not so great,' reveals Shantol Jackson, 32, who plays DS Naomi Thomas. 'Mervin doesn't want to be there. He is quite blunt, impatient and not very kind. However, over time, they grow to understand and respect each other.'

Gilet says he's excited to be stepping into the lead role on Death in Paradise following the departure of Ralf Little as DI Neville Parker, but he admits that he felt an element of pressure about becoming the new face of the long-running show.

'I can't deny it was mixed feelings,' he says. 'How can you not want to do this job? But, of course, it's a massive role, and people kept telling me how much the show is loved. Ultimately, I'm thrilled to bits that they took me on – I hope they don't regret it!'

NEW COMEDY

Outnumbered

Boxing Day, 9.40pm, BBC1

The Brockmans are back with a new addition...

Baby on board

It's been eight years since we last spent time with Outnumbered's hilarious Brockman family, and as viewers reunite with the London clan for a seasonal special, there's plenty of news to catch up on…

Long-suffering parents Pete and Sue (played by real-life couple Hugh Dennis and Claire Skinner) are now proud grandparents after their eldest child Jake (Tyger Drew-Honey) had a daughter with his partner Rani (Kerena Jagpal).

'It feels like a really good time to check in with the Brockmans again,' says Drew-Honey, 28. 'Jake's now an adoring father to his daughter Zara and dealing with the usual new parenting experiences, especially lack of sleep and his daughter's tendency to impersonate animals! And without giving too much away, it's interesting to see Pete and Sue interact with their first grandchild…'

Jake's siblings, Ben (Daniel Roche) and Karen (Ramona Marquez), have also left the family nest, while, like many parents with grown-up kids, Pete and Sue have downsized.

'Ben isn't quite the liability he used to be,' says Roche, 25. 'There's even a scene where he volunteers to supervise Zara and everyone's OK with that!'

GROWING PAINS

In the new outing, the now-adult children's attempt to spend a traditional Christmas together in their parents' smaller home is in danger of being derailed by neighbours and bus-replacement services.

'We always said we'd catch up with the Brockmans further down the line, and now, with a big gap, there's a proper change,' says writer Andy Hamilton, who co-created the series with Guy Jenkin. 'Adult family Christmases are difficult. Getting everyone together becomes a problem in itself.'

Honey-Drew, Roche and Marquez were 11, seven and six years old respectively when the series launched in 2007, and their scenes were famously semi-improvised, giving the show an unrivalled sense of realism – a tradition that continues with the addition of toddler Zara.

'The little girl who plays Zara is only three, so that felt quite full-circle and joyous,' says Marquez, 23.

NEW COMEDY

Bad Tidings

Sun 22 December, 7.30pm, Sky Max & Sky Showcase

After wowing us on Strictly Come Dancing with pro partner Dianne Buswell, Chris McCausland is back on our screens this Christmas in a very different type of double act.

The Liverpudlian comedian teams up with Not Going Out's Lee Mack to play feuding neighbours who become unlikely heroes in a festive film full of merry mischief and mayhem.

The cast have kept in touch since the last Christmas special and were delighted to reunite on screen.

'What stuck out to me was how easy it was to come back – it was as if we'd never been away,' says Roche. 'Another exciting aspect was seeing the cast and crew again. Tyger, Ramona and I are friends and see each other a lot, but there were people who came out of retirement for this!'

The family back in 2007

(McCausland) as their squabble over Christmas lights causes a blackout in their Stockport street.

As their neighbours up sticks over the holidays, Neil and Scott must stand guard – and they soon come up against a family of thieves who are planning to burgle all the houses...

'It's a buddy-comedy caper,' says McCausland, 47, who co-wrote the show. 'Neil and Scott can't stand each other, but they have to work together.

'Hopefully the film keeps you on the edge of your seat with tension and laughs. Sky had confidence in the two of us to pull it off – although they did get me an acting coach. I think they had slightly less faith in me than they did in Lee.'

McCausland recently announced several extra dates for his sell-out stand-up tour Yonks!, but he also hopes to find time for more acting roles in 2025.

'Comedy is very solitary. You do a gig, then you go home. Making a film, you are part of a team, so I'd love to do more,' he says. 'But I'm aware I'm quite niche as an actor – it's got to be a good-looking blind fella!'

Romesh Ranganathan and Rob Beckett aim to take the darts world by storm

Rob & Romesh Vs Darts

New Year's Eve, 9pm, Sky Max & Sky Showcase

As the nation settles back to watch darts sensation Luke Littler battle it out for the world title this festive season, Rob Beckett, 38, and Romesh Ranganathan, 46, will be trying to steal his thunder in their latest TV challenge on Sky Max.

They will be meeting 'The Nuke' and other top players as they prepare for their own head-to-head darts challenge in front of a sold-out Alexandra Palace.

Here, they tell us more…

Why do you think darts is such a popular sport?

Beckett I've always loved darts. I think it's because everyone's thrown a dart, everyone knows how hard it is. You can appreciate it.

Ranganathan There are no barriers to entry, so it feels inclusive. As long as you don't mind wearing a hideous shirt, you can have a go.

Darts tournaments are famous for the players' walk-ons. Are you looking forward to that?

Beckett If the fans are cheering, yes – but not if they're booing, which I imagine they will be.

Ranganathan Player walk-ons are great if you're about to deliver something impressive. I'm terrible at darts, so a big walk-on is asking for trouble. It might be more appropriate to sneak in at the back and hand out letters of apology.

In the last series, you had a go at being

Hollywood stuntmen and MMA fighters. Are you glad this will be less physically demanding?

Ranganathan The problem is, even though there is no physical exertion, there is still the prospect of humiliation. Every different challenge we do there is something either physically strenuous or mentally horrifying. I'm convinced it is shortening our lives.

How are you spending Christmas?

Beckett Just taking time off with my children. My life is quite hectic, so I won't leave the house. Play with the kids. Watch telly. Eat. Drink. Take the dogs for a walk. Job done.

Ranganathan We're going away to New York because my family don't think Christmas is expensive enough as it is. But otherwise, my main aim is to do very little. Some days breathing will be the most I achieve.

A new invention causes chaos for Wallace and Gromit this Christmas

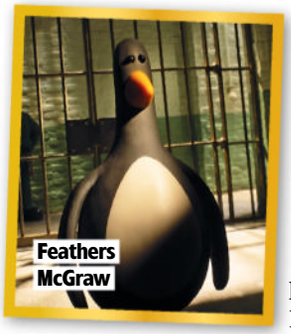
NEW ANIMATION

Wallace & Gromit: Vengeance Most Fowl

Christmas Day, 6.10pm, BBC1

Cheese-loving inventor Wallace and his loyal sidekick Gromit find themselves in a right old pickle when they return to our screens in new action-packed adventure Vengeance Most Fowl.

It's the pair's first feature-length animation since The Curse of the Were-Rabbit in 2005 and sees Wallace's latest invention, a 'smart' gnome called Norbot, run amok when it's hacked by criminal penguin Feathers McGraw.



Feathers McGraw

'It's been great fun bringing Feathers back after 31 years,' says creator Nick Park when TV&Satellite Week meets him at BBC HQ. 'He's more menacing than ever.'

Feathers is hungry for revenge after Wallace and Gromit helped put him behind bars for the diamond heist he masterminded in 1993 caper The Wrong Trousers – and he sees the perfect opportunity via Norbot (voiced by Reece Shearsmith), who Wallace has designed to help with household chores.

'After he's been hacked by Feathers, Norbot becomes increasingly demonic,' reveals Park, 66. 'He's definitely not your typical sweet little garden gnome.'

The voice cast includes Ben Whitehead – in his first feature-length film as Wallace after taking over the role following the death of Peter Sallis – while Peter Kay returns as Chief Inspector (formerly PC) Mackintosh, and there's a cameo from Sir Lenny Henry.

'All of them have watched Wallace and Gromit over the years,' says Park. 'Peter Kay says his kids have seen The Curse of the Were-Rabbit so many times, he's stopped counting. I suppose the shows have become a bit of a Christmas institution.'

MODEL MARRIAGE

Park first created the plasticine heroes back in the 1980s, and the characters continue to hold a special place in his heart.

NEW ANIMATION

Tiddler

Christmas Day, 2.35pm, BBC1

The festive tradition of animating a beloved book by Julia Donaldson continues on BBC1 with Tiddler, the tale of a tiny fish who has a big imagination.

Produced by Magic Light Pictures, the exquisite film is narrated by Emmy-winning Ted Lasso star Hannah Waddingham, and explores an enchanting deepwater world where a little fish called Tiddler dreams up elaborate excuses when he's late for school. From exploring shipwrecks and diving with dolphins to riding seahorses and being captured by a squid, his daily adventures seem far-fetched to his classmates, but are lapped up by his loyal sidekick Little Johnny Dory.

So what gifts does Park think the intrepid duo would like in their Christmas stockings?

'Well, Wallace would be happy with cheese,' he grins. 'And Gromit would like a voucher for some peace and quiet – like a day at a spa.'

scooped up in a fisherman's net and ends up lost in the vast ocean, can the trail of his stories, which have been passed from fish to fish, help him find his way home?

'The charming thing about little Tiddler is that he doesn't know how to exist apart from wearing his heart on his sleeve,' says Waddingham, 50.

Child actors Reuben Kirby and Theo Fraser voice Tiddler and his buddy Little Johnny Dory, while the cast also includes Ghosts star Lolly Adefope as Miss Skate and comedian Jayde Adams as Plaice, while Rob Brydon lends his vocal talents to Fisherman, Whale, Starfish and Anchovy.

The sea-sonal film is the 12th adaptation of a bedtime staple from Donaldson and illustrator Axel Scheffler, with previous productions including Stick Man, Zog and last year's offering, Tabby McTat.

'Julia and Axel's books and films truly are timeless, and all have the same beautiful detail,' says Waddingham. 'And what a joyous thing to teach a child from an early age – that you are delicious just the way you are.'

Gordon Buchanan heads into Three Wise Men country on an epic journey by camel...

NEW FACTUAL

My Epic Camel Adventure with Gordon Buchanan

Sun 22 Dec, 7.30pm (times vary), BBC2

Wildlife filmmaker Gordon Buchanan embarks on an epic journey when he follows in the footsteps of the Three Wise Men for his latest BBC2 documentary.

For his two-week journey, Buchanan travels across the vast wilderness of the Gobi Desert on camelback, crossing sand dunes, rocky plains and snow-covered mountains, with only his camels named Squeaks and Chewy for company.

'The nomads that live in the Gobi Desert don't give their camels names as they're not pets, but Squeaks and Chewy seemed very fitting – Squeaks because when he ground his teeth, it made a squeaking sound, and Chewy because he sounded like Chewbacca,' reveals Buchanan, 52.

MAKING FRIENDS

'When I first met them, they gave me such "back off" vibes that I thought we'd never bond. I was barked at, spat at and snapped at – but, by the end, I was so attached to them both that I was even cuddling them and tickling their ears.'

Along the epic journey, which begins in Mongolia, Buchanan spots wolves and saiga antelopes, and tries to catch sight of the endangered Gobi bear, while also learning more about camels' amazing abilities.

'They're hardcore,' he laughs. 'Two months before we arrived in Mongolia, the temperature was minus 50. Then, in summer, it goes up to over 45. So you've got this animal that can cope with almost 100 degrees of temperature range.

'I had to rely on them to pick the best route, whether that was up a rocky escarpment, across a sand-dune system or a frozen lake. I found myself having to trust in these two bizarre animals to keep me safe.'

Buchanan says that another highlight was spending time with the Gobi Desert's nomad families.

'Their lifestyle means there are no boundaries, no fences, no rules and nobody telling you where you can and can't go,' he says. 'So what seems like a really challenging way of life is actually really uplifting and freeing.

'I fell in love with the Gobi Desert. It felt so biblical and it's become one of my favourite places in the world.'

Celebrating beloved Hairy Biker Dave Myers

NEW FACTUAL

The Hairy Bikers: You'll Never Ride Alone

Mon 23 December, 9pm, BBC2

When Dave Myers and Si King roared on to our screens with The Hairy Bikers' Cookbook in 2004, the motorbiking duo's culinary adventures gained legions of fans.

Following Myers' sad death in February, aged 66, his life was celebrated in June when 2,500 bikers joined King on a fundraising journey from London to Cumbria. By the time they reached Myers' home town of Barrow, the convoy numbered over 45,000.

Now, a one-off documentary follows the emotional event, 'Dave Day', and pays tribute to the fun-loving TV chef.

Here, King, 58, remembers his pal…

hearts

Where did the idea for Dave Day come from? It came about in a conversation with his wife Liliana. She'd picked up on a social-media post where somebody suggested that instead of saying, 'I'm having a good day,' say, 'I'm having Dave Day,' as he was always positive.

Do you remember the first time you met? It was over curry in 1992 in a pub called the Egypt Cottage in Newcastle when we were both working on a TV romance called The Gambling Man. I was assistant director and Dave was chief make-up artist. It was love at first sight!

The bikers' tribute convoy

What does Dave mean to you? Dave embraced life, he was joyous and full of mischief. Even though he's passed, he's still my best mate.

NETFLIX Squid Game

NEW Available: Boxing Day Genre: Thriller Season: 2 Episodes: 7

Three years after taking the world by storm, South Korean survival thriller Squid Game makes its hotly-anticipated return on Boxing Day – and this time, the stakes are even higher.

The first season became Netflix's most-watched show ever as it followed a secret contest where hundreds of poverty-stricken players risked their lives to take part in deadly children's games for the chance to win a huge cash prize. However, those who failed to complete the tasks were killed.

In the new seven-parter, the contest's winner, Seong Gi-hun (Lee Jung-jae), AKA Player 456, is determined to thwart the shadowy Front Man and the people behind the games, and learn why they pit penniless competitors against each other.

To put an end to the savage sport, Gi-hun steps back into his green tracksuit and re-enters the contest, and discovers that a new set of cruel games are being played by cash-strapped contestants, including fugitive and former cryptocurrency influencer Myung-gi, compulsive gambler Yong-sik and Gi-hun's close friend Jung-bae.

'Gi-hun is driven blindly by his goal of tracking down the culprits and bringing them to justice. He goes back into the game with a much clearer motive of wanting to stop these games,' teases creator Hwang Dong-hyuk.

The first season also followed police officer Hwang Jun-ho (Wi Ha-jun), who infiltrated the game to find his missing brother In-ho (Lee Byung-hun), who he believed was a participant. The curious cop was shocked to discover that In-ho was a former champion of the Squid Game and had gone on to become the Front Man.

In a stand-off, the officer was shot, and seemingly killed, by his brother in the Season 1 finale. However, as we discover in the opening episode, Jun-ho didn't die, and when he returns, his investigation is far from over…

'I had some concerns because the story told in the second season is much crueller, scarier and more gruesome than the first,' says Hwang Dong-hyuk. 'Honestly, I thought to myself, "Is this too much for people to handle?"'

BBC iPLAYER Sir Alex

NEW Available: Boxing Day Genre: Factual Season: 1 Episodes: 2

The incredible career of Sir Alex Ferguson, one of the most-decorated football managers in British history, is celebrated in this two-part documentary. It explores his Glasgow upbringing, his playing career and initial success with Aberdeen before he built an all-conquering Manchester United team around David Beckham and the 'Class of 92' that would go on to become European champions and clinch the treble in 1999. Those who played for Ferguson, as well as his rivals, reveal how his ruthless streak took United to the top of English and European football again in 2008.

The planet is in peril as The Rig returns

prime The Rig

NEW Available: Thursday 2 January Genre: Thriller Season: 2 Episodes: 6

When we last saw the crew of the Kinloch Bravo oil rig, they were being airlifted to safety, having survived a devastating tsunami caused by a mysterious life force they named the Ancestor.

However, it seems that Magnus, Fulmer and Rose won't be jetting home to their loved ones just yet – as they discover that the giant wave also wiped out much of the Scottish coastline and their rescue helicopter is taking them to a secret offshore facility deep in the Arctic Circle.

In the facility, the crew meet corporate bigwig Lennox (Star Trek: Picard's Alice Krige) and learn that her company has some sinister plans for the seabed. Will that put them at odds once again with the Ancestor as humankind upsets the balance of nature?

The survivors are now in the Arctic

RESOURCE GRAB

'We find ourselves in a very different environment, with the big players in this world starting to abuse the planet in different ways,' reveals Iain Glen, who plays former rig boss Magnus. 'This season is about the future of the Earth.'

Martin Compston, who plays comms officer Fulmer, sees parallels with what could happen in real life as our planet heats up, and the controversial issue of deep-sea mining comes to the fore.

'We are seeing ice caps melting and that there's a whole lot of resources underneath,' he says. 'That ice disappearing is going to benefit somebody and, at some point, there will be a fight to see who can grab what. It almost seems that before we understand anything, or try to explore what is happening on the sea floor, we try to exploit it for monetary value.'

Meanwhile, what does the future hold for the blossoming relationship between Fulmer and Rose (Emily Hampshire)?

'Primarily, we want to entertain viewers,' says Glen. 'There are great thrills throughout The Rig but at the heart of the series is a really touching love story.'

A detective is haunted by her romantic past in a new Harlan Coben thriller

NETFLIX Missing You

NEW Available: New Year's Day
Genre: Thriller Season: 1 Episodes: 5

The Netflix adaptation of Harlan Coben's Fool Me Once was the streaming platform's most-watched series in the first half of 2024, so expectations are high for this new drama adapted from another of the US author's bestselling thrillers.

Featuring a starry cast that includes Fool Me Once's Richard Armitage, Top Boy's Ashley Walters and Sir Lenny Henry, the five-parter centres on DI Kat Donovan (Slow Horses actor Rosalind Eleazar), who is haunted by her tragic past.

Encouraged by pal Stacey (Jessica Plummer), singleton Kat reluctantly signs up to a new Tinder-style app. But she is blindsided when her ex Josh (Walters), who disappeared before their wedding day, is suggested as a match.

Meanwhile, Kat is still scarred by the murder of her beloved police-officer father Clint (Henry) and, against the advice of her boss DCI Ellis Stagger (Armitage), tries to get answers from terminally ill hitman Monte Leburne (Marc Warren), who is serving life for killing Clint.

Lenny Henry (Clint) with co-star Eleazar

As she digs deeper in search of answers, Kat starts uncovering disturbing secrets and lies, and questions whose word she can really trust.

'Trust is an overarching theme, because Kat wouldn't be so far down this line if she didn't trust people,' says Eleazar. 'In Kat's mind, Josh left her because she was too much to deal with after the death of her father. So she has created a narrative that protects her, because that makes it easier to go forward.'

14-DAY GUIDE

The first showings and the best of the rest

Fly Me to the Moon

On demand, AppleTV+

PREMIERE It's 1969 and a sparky Scarlett Johansson is an advertising wiz brought in by Woody Harrelson's cheerfully devious White House fixer to 'market the Moon' to a US disinterested in the Apollo 11 mission. This puts her on a collision course with NASA's launch director Channing Tatum. Things are further complicated when Harrelson tasks her with filming a fake Moon landing (which cues a chaotic, very funny farce). It's a jaunty mission, even if the rom in romcom is underplayed, but with the stars shining brightly it's a lot of fun. On all fortnight. ★★★★

The Taste of Things

On demand, Mubi

PREMIERE For a gloriously uninterrupted 38 minutes, this mouth-watering period drama drops us into the creation of an incredible meal.

It's 1885; Juliette Binoche's gentle Eugénie has cooked for wealthy gourmand Dodin (a lip-smacking Benoît Magimel) for two decades. But when she refuses his marriage proposal, he sets out to woo her by cooking an elaborate meal he hopes will capture her taste buds and heart. Binoche and Magimel keep the emotion simmering, while director Anh Hung Tran celebrates the passion of food. The scoffing of oysters and caviar has never looked more erotic, Eugénie's braising, sauce-skimming excellence is a work of art and a beef stew shows that even the simplest dish can be sublime if made with love. On all fortnight. ★★★★ nuclear war breaks out on Earth – each group being told by their nation to take over the craft. There's a Twilight Zone vibe to this bluntly allegorical thriller, in which no side comes out smelling of roses, with the cast uniformly excellent and director Gabriela Cowperthwaite maintaining a sweaty tension throughout. ★★★

Christmas Eve in Miller's Point

Christmas Eve, 2.30pm & 10pm, Sky Premiere

PREMIERE A gift of a Christmas movie, this warm and generous comedy drama may not have anything in the way of a plot, but creates the mood and atmosphere of a family gathering perfectly. It's the early noughties on Long Island and an Italian-American family come together for Christmas Eve night. And there's a lot of them. Four generations combine, with director Tyler Taormina wandering through each of the age groups with their humour and (very) minor dramas playing out. It's essentially a tone poem to the festive season, sometimes vaguely abstract and surreal, but coalescing into the spirit of love, family and memories. It's a quietly wonderful experience. ★★★★

Kung Fu Panda 4

Christmas Day, 8.55am & 2.25pm, Sky Premiere

PREMIERE Adorable roly-poly panda Po (voiced by Jack Black) is back after an eight-year break. At the peak of his spiritual mastery, Po is on the lookout for a new Dragon Warrior to succeed him. Teaming up with wily fox thief Zhen (Awkwafina), he has a new baddie to battle, The Chameleon (an enjoyably menacing Viola Davis), who is able to absorb others' powers and transform into previously vanquished foes. Black and Awkwafina are effortlessly funny and, while this is more an amiable retread of the formula rather than a reinvention, it's never too far away from another zippily choreographed fight sequence. Also returning are Ian McShane, Dustin Hoffman, and Bryan Cranston. ★★★

A Quiet Place: Day One

Christmas Day, on demand, Paramount+/12.35pm & 8pm, Sky Premiere

PREMIERE In this compelling, gripping and superbly acted prequel, Lupita Nyong'o's terminally ill and outspoken poet Sam is visiting New York – but the day out is interrupted by the arrival of the blind aliens that starts a panic. Emotionally strong but physically weak, Sam is helped by a winning friend, Frodo the cat, and in turn aids scared law student Eric (Gladiator II's Joseph Quinn). The pair have a tangible connection – and with the end of Sam's life looming, along with many more, there are poignant reflections on mortality, memory and how we choose to live – and die. ★★★★

Minions: The Rise of Gru

Christmas Day, 12.55pm, BBC1

The adorable yellow TicTac-shaped troublemakers return in this fun, hectic, and frankly overstuffed follow-up set in the funky 1970s. Director Kyle Balda sticks faithfully to the tried-and-true recipe of ingenious heists and hectic Minion slapstick, with lashings of pop-culture gags for the adults. Besotted with the villainous Vicious 6 gang, tweenager Gru (again nicely voiced by Steve Carell) tries to impress them by stealing their infamous Zodiac jewel. ★★★★

Problemista

New Year's Eve, 10.40am & 11.45pm, Sky Premiere

PREMIERE In this absurdist comedy, writer-director-star Julio Torres' gentle wannabe toy designer Alejandro faces deportation to El Salvador unless he can urgently earn visa sponsorship by arranging an art show of the weird egg paintings made by the cryogenically frozen husband of his monstrous art critic boss Elizabeth (a roaring, magenta-haired Tilda Swinton). A head-spinning combo of deadpan art-world parody, poignant immigration satire and lo-fi fantasy, this is a chaotic but wildly imaginative slice of whimsy. ★★★

The Fall Guy

Friday 3 January, 12.25pm & 8pm, Sky Premiere

PREMIERE Stunt performer Ryan Gosling is the double for A-lister Aaron Taylor-Johnson and is having a bit of a thing with Emily Blunt's camera operator. But an accident changes everything and, 18 months later, he's eking out a living – until he's called to a shoot in Australia. Blunt is director, and none-too-happy to see him, Taylor-Johnson is missing and Gosling has to play detective. Though a tad long, director David Leitch's film is a snappy, sharp, sexy screwball romance, with sparking chemistry between Gosling and Blunt, ace action and fab support from Taylor-Johnson, Hannah Waddingham and Winston Duke. ★★★★

He will rock you: Rami struts his stuff

An Oscar-winning Rami Malek looks and moves the part as legendary Queen frontman Freddie Mercury in this rousing biopic chronicling the years leading up to the band's epochal 1985 Live Aid performance at Wembley Stadium. It's a conventional music biopic, for sure. It sketches in Mercury's background as the Zanzibar-born son of conservative Parsee parents, highlights his first meeting with future band mates Brian May (Gwilym Lee), Roger Taylor (Ben Hardy) and John Deacon (Joseph Mazzello), and charts their rise to fame, the creation of some of their biggest hits, and Mercury's HIV diagnosis and death. Unashamedly corny in places, the movie gets things absolutely right where it matters most – capturing the electrifying excitement of the band's music and in Malek's supercharged, stage-strutting performance. 2018, 12, 134MIN

Despite being one of the great examples of American hard-boiled cinema, this film noir was actually directed by the Austrian émigré Fritz Lang, who had been making films since the silent era. The film perfectly suited Lang's dark, misanthropic nature – who can forget the scene where Lee Marvin casually flings scalding coffee into Gloria Grahame's face – although much of the film now seems a little dated. The film's greatest achievement is probably Charles Lang Jr's evocative cinematography. 1953, 15, 90MIN

Taking a stand: Alisha

This adaptation of Tim Minchin's hit stage musical, based on the Roald Dahl classic, is an absolute delight. Alisha Weir nails the title role as the bright girl whose awful home life with her neglectful, mean parents (played gleefully by Stephen Graham and Andrea Riseborough) is nothing compared to the horrors that await when she arrives at the prison-like school run by Emma Thompson's monstrous headteacher Miss Trunchbull, a bullying, vicious ex-hammer thrower who now likes to hurl her charges over the school perimeter. Luckily, Matilda has nice teacher Miss Honey (Lashana Lynch) on her side, along with her telekinetic abilities and wild imagination. Chadwick Boseman's superhero T'Challa, aka Black Panther, had a dash-on part in 2016's Captain America: Civil War. Now he gets his own solo turn in a wildly successful comic-book adventure. Largely set in a hidden African nation called Wakanda, the film sees royal heir T'Challa fight to defend his throne from Michael B Jordan's vengeful challenger, while stopping Andy Serkis' black-market arms dealer exploiting Wakanda's precious metal Vibranium. He has a number of strong women on his side, including Letitia Wright, Lupita Nyong'o and Danai Gurira, together with Martin Freeman as the token CIA agent sidekick. We all know the plot – cynical TV weatherman Phil (Bill Murray) gets caught out reliving a 2 February weather-predicting festival in the American town of Punxsutawney over and over and over again. No matter what he does, he wakes up at exactly the same time (6am) on exactly the same morning. The fact that the term 'Groundhog Day' has now slipped into common vocabulary to describe any repeated scenario demonstrates the special place this inventive film has in people's hearts. Murray delivers what is probably the finest performance of his career and Andie MacDowell plays a nice supporting role as his producer who he gets to know. Incidentally, it may seem like Phil spends only a week or so in Groundhog Day while you're watching the film, but there are actually 42 accountable days if you take the time to work it out! 1993, PG, 103MIN

Explosive: George braves the trenches

WAR DRAMA

1917

10.30pm, BBC2 ★★★★★

Sex ●●● Violence ●●● Language ●●●

Sam Mendes' war movie vividly brings home the horrors of the Western Front. Filmed as if one continuous shot, this plunges us into the heat of the action as two British soldiers (George MacKay and Dean-Charles Chapman) undertake a treacherous mission through no-man's land to deliver a message that will stop their comrades from falling into a German trap. It's a thrillingly immersive epic. 2019, 15, 119MIN

SCI-FI

Planet of the Apes

2.30pm, BBC2 ★★★★★

Sex ●●● Violence ●●● Language ●●●

Charlton Heston's astronaut arrives in a world where humans are ruled by their simian cousins in this classic sci-fi adventure. The ape make-up seems primitive by today's standards, but Franklin J Schaffner's muscular direction and the clever screenplay by Michael Wilson and Rod Serling transform what might have been a simple B-movie into a genuine epic. It has stood the test of time, though there can be few viewers who won't already be aware of the film's twist ending. 1968, PG, 112MIN

COMEDY

Wedding Crashers

11.40pm, BBC1 ★★★★

Sex ●●● Violence ●●● Language ●●●

In this shrewd comedy with a sweetly romantic centre, Owen Wilson and Vince Vaughn play a pair of over-extended adolescents gleefully invading weddings for free food, booze and bridesmaids. But they get into trouble when Wilson falls for politician Christopher Walken's daughter (Rachel McAdams), while her sister (Isla Fisher) takes a fancy to Vaughn. The film isn't consistent, content to coast on Wilson and Vaughn's roguish charm, but there are some good, honest laughs to be had. 2009, 15, 119MIN

THRILLER

The Lighthouse

11.55pm, Film4 ★★★★

Sex ●●● Violence ●●● Language ●●●

On a remote lighthouse off the coast of 1890s New England, Willem Dafoe and Robert Pattinson struggle to hang on to their sanity during a four-week shift in writer-director Robert Eggers' claustrophobic psychodrama. Dafoe and Pattinson throw themselves into their troubled characters with conviction. Add to this the film's striking black-and-white cinematography and eerie soundtrack, and you have a movie that might just drive viewers as mad as its leads. 2019, 15, 109MIN

CLASSIC HORROR

The Devil Rides Out

12.50am, Legend ★★★★

Sex ●●● Violence ●●● Language ●●●

Christopher Lee gets a rare chance to play a horror movie hero in Hammer's capable adaptation of Dennis Wheatley's black magic thriller novel. It's the 1920s, and Lee's brave Duc de Richleau puts his life and soul on the line in a bid to break the power of Charles Gray's Satanic cult. The eerie finale is packed with shocks and surprises, and Terence Fisher directs with real flair and imagination. 1967, 15, 91MIN

PDC World Championship

Darts superstar Luke Littler on his world-title challenge, handling pressure and fancy dress...

LIVE DARTS

Sat 21 Dec-Mon 23 Dec, Fri 27 Dec-Mon 30 Dec & New Year's Day-Fri 3 Jan, Sky Sports Darts, Sky Sports Main Event & Sky Showcase

The Grinches, Minions and Oompa Loompas will be out in force at London's Alexandra Palace as the world's best darts players battle it out for the Sid Waddell Trophy.

The tournament takes a break from Christmas Eve to Boxing Day (plus a night off on New Year's Eve) before the quarter-finals on New Year's Day, the semi-finals on Thursday 2 January and the grand final on Friday 3 January.

Last time, a record 3.7million viewers watched teen sensation Luke 'The Nuke' Littler narrowly miss out to Luke Humphries in a thrilling final, but there's no doubt the Warrington wonder kid will be wowing the crowds again this year.

We caught up with Littler, 17, for an exclusive chat…

Reigning champion Luke Humphries

What would it mean to you to be world champion? It would mean everything. It won't be easy, especially as Luke Humphries is so hard to beat, but I am always up for a challenge. I won the Grand Slam in November so I am playing better than last time. Back then I was ranked 164th; now I am in the top five, so I am full of confidence.

Do you feel extra pressure being called the 'face of darts' by the media? I don't feel pressure. I stay pretty chilled and I love playing in front of a big crowd.

You have won 10 titles in your first year as a professional. What was the highlight? Picking up the Premier League title at my first attempt and hitting a nine-darter in the final. People said I wasn't ready for the Premier League so winning it was a big message to everyone who doubted me.

You have won more than £1million in prize money this year. Have you splashed out on anything special? You've got to treat yourself sometimes, so I've bought a few bottles of aftershave. I turn 18 in January and everything changes in a lot of ways at that point – but I'll still be the same person.

What are some of the fun things that have happened this year? I'm a big Manchester United fan, so I loved being invited to the training ground and getting a signed shirt. And it was fun filming Bullseye with Freddie Flintoff [see page 17]. I even got a Bully to take home.

Finally, if you were a fan at Ally Pally, what fancy dress would you wear? It would have to be a traffic cone!

The bout in May

LIVE BOXING

Oleksandr Usyk v Tyson Fury

Saturday 21 December, DAZN, Sky Sports Box Office & TNT Sports Box Office

The boxers return to Saudi Arabia as Tyson Fury looks to avenge the defeat in May that saw his Ukrainian rival become the first undisputed four-belt heavyweight champion. Usyk has since vacated the IBF belt, now held by the UK's Daniel Dubois, meaning a win for Fury could set up an all-British undisputed title fight in 2025.

LIVE HORSE RACING

King George VI Chase

Boxing Day, race starts 2.30pm, ITV1

Kempton Park hosts the traditional Boxing Day steeplechase, won last year by Hewick, ridden by Gavin Sheehan. The nine-year-old bay, trained by John Joseph 'Shark' Hanlon, is back at the Surrey racecourse for this year's showpiece as part of a star-studded field that also includes two-time Cheltenham Gold Cup winner Galopin Des Champs.

Prime Video commentator Jon Champion hands out his midseason awards

LIVE FOOTBALL

From Saturday 21 December, Prime Video, Sky Sports & TNT Sports

There's a feast of 18 live Premier League games over the Christmas fortnight, including a full round of ties on Prime Video that features a Boxing Day clash between Liverpool and Ruud van Nistelrooy's Leicester City (8pm) plus Arsenal versus Ipswich Town (Fri 27 Dec, 8.15pm). Here, Jon Champion, who is covering both games, reviews the season so far...

BEST TEAM

'It's got to be Liverpool. It has been an extraordinary passing of the baton from Jürgen Klopp to Arne Slot. The Dutch coach inherited a team in a very tidy state, with options in every position, but he has made it a very smooth transition and the Reds' football is now more considered and more controlled.'

BEST PLAYER

'It's difficult to look beyond Liverpool's Mohamed Salah, who is scoring lots of goals at the age of 32 and against a backdrop of uncertainty about his future. He has scored 20-plus goals in all of his seven previous seasons at Anfield, with various different strike partners. He is their undisputed talisman.'

BEST COACH

'I will have to go for Arne Slot, but with honourable mentions for Chelsea's Enzo Maresca and Forest's Nuno Espírito Santo – who have both got to grips with big squads that were imposed upon them – plus Fabian Hürzeler, who is thriving at Brighton as the youngest ever manager in the Premier League.'

BIGGEST SURPRISE

'Manchester City's apparent disintegration hasn't just been a surprise, it's been a big shock. The champions are not the unbeatable force that we have grown used to. I don't doubt that they will bounce back up again, but I am not sure they will ever be quite as big a force as they've been in the past.'

BEST GOAL

'The one I really liked was Nicolas Jackson for Chelsea against Newcastle at Stamford Bridge that won October's goal of the month. It epitomised what the new, youthful Chelsea are all about, with those young players – Jackson, Cole Palmer and Pedro Neto – combining to telling effect.'

Chelsea's Nicolas Jackson

Christmas Day NFL

Christmas Day, Netflix

Netflix has won the rights to stream the NFL's traditional Christmas Day matches and begins a double bill with the Pittsburgh Steelers against Super Bowl holders Kansas City Chiefs, who started the season with a superb run of nine games unbeaten (kick-off 6pm). Houston Texans against Baltimore Ravens (kick-off 9.30pm) follows, featuring a half-time show from Beyoncé.

Seashell is an unusual nickname. But not for Jutlla.

His grandmother knew he would be a small but important part of something greater. Like a seashell in a big, endless ocean.

Growing up in a family of 11, he was always part of a team. From joining the Scouts as a boy, to scaling huge peaks in a mountain rescue team. He's always helped others whenever and however he can.

After losing 10 family members to cancer, and facing it himself, Jutlla wanted to do even more for everyone. That's why he's leaving a gift to Cancer Research UK in his Will.

So he never has to stop helping people like Alfred live longer, better lives.

Alfred didn't think that would be possible after his advanced prostate cancer diagnosis. Thanks to a Cancer Research UK-funded trial, he was able to receive life-saving treatment.

It's given him more chances to breathe in the crisp Welsh air and keep walking through life in his favourite of places: the Brecon Beacons.

Here, up amongst the hills, he feels free. Undefeated. Ever grateful and hopeful for what lies just beyond the peak.

Leave a life-changing legacy.
